

Shadia Hrichi was born in New York City and holds a Bachelors Degree in Psychology and Masters Degree in Criminal Justice. Once at risk for being aborted herself as her mother struggled with an unplanned pregnancy, and having lost her own child to abortion at the age of 15, Shadia captures the hearts of her audience as she illustrates, through personal experience, the faithfulness of God's love, promise of redemption, and path to victory.

As an Author, Speaker, and Founder of Beautiful Voice Ministries, Shadia is passionate for sharing God's promises of hope and healing with her audience, encouraging and challenging them to embrace the magnificent plan God has for their lives. Currently residing in San Jose, California, Shadia is an active member of her church, serves as a counselor and Event Speaker for her local pregnancy center, and regularly speaks at churches, fundraisers, and other events. Her new book, Nameless No More: A Journey of Healing After Abortion, was released on August 15, 2010, and can be found by visiting her website, www.beautifulvoice.org.
